

Interaction

Reciprocal events requiring two objects and two actions. When objects and events mutually influence one another.

---

Interactivity

The technological capability for establishing connections from point to point (or multipoints) in real time.